The Charge from DOE and NSF

- scope and scientific challenges of nuclear physics today
- Progress since the last LRP; impacts in and out of the field
- Most compelling scientific opportunities in next decade
- Strategy for use of existing and planned capabilities
- Required resources and funding levels to maintain world leadership position
 - New facilities, mid-scale instrumentation, major items of equipment (MIE)
 - Constant effort, modest growth, CHIPS act authorization
- International coordination and collaborations
- Cross cutting interdisciplinary opportunities (interagency, etc)
- Mutually beneficial interactions with other disciplines
- Integrate efforts to promote a diverse, equitable, and sustainable workforce

The Long Range Plan Process

- Charge delivered to NSAC on July 13
- Committee formed
- DNP named conveners to organize three townhalls
 - QCD Sept. 23– 25 (MIT)
 - Nuclear Structure, Reactions, & Astrophysics Nov. 14 - 16 (Argonne)
 - Fundamental Symmetries Dec. 13 – 15 (Chapel Hill)
 - White papers will be produced
- Additional groups will also write white papers
- White papers due Feb. 28
- LRP Committee works on writing the bulk of the document
- Resolution Meeting July 10 – 14 in person
- Finish Report, executive summary, communication plan

One of the most important parts of this process is that the entire field is coming together in small and large groups to consider the physics and the future. This is very valuable!

Goals

- Answer the charge; recommend scientific priorities for the next 10 years
- Produce a readable report that
 - Summarizes the incredible science
 - Clearly articulates the impact (world leadership, interdisciplinary, HEP, applications, workforce, etc)
 - Helps agency leaders understand and make the case for investment in nuclear science
 - Informs congress (staffers)

We need to keep in mind the audience!

Subcommittees (Chairs)

- QCD (Richard Milner)
- Fundamental Symmetries (Brent VanDevender)
- Nuclear Structure, Reactions & Astrophysics (Ani Aprahamian)
- Workforce Development (Shelly Leshner)
 - includes education and DEI
- Applications (Calvin Howell and Mike Carpenter)
- International Context (Krishna Kumar)
- Crosscutting/interdisciplinary scientific opportunities (Ian Cloet)
 - QIS, AI/ML, Accelerator Science
- Impact and synergies with other fields (Jorge Piekarewicz)
- Budget (Sherry Yennello)
- Theory (Filomena Nunes)
- Facilities (Haiyan Gao)

Communication

- We will use APS Engage platform to announce meetings, provide updates, collect whitepapers and other input, and field general questions and comments.

Please join the APS Engage Community: NSAC Long Range Plan

- We will also have a regular web page site:
 - Password protected area for committee members
 - Long term website that will be available after the LRP is finished.

We will have QR codes and links in the LRP that will lead to this permanently maintained site with additional content, videos, simulations, etc.

What does the LRP Committee need from this townhall?

- Robust, inclusive community discussion
 - Science: progress, opportunities
 - Workforce, DEI
 - Interdisciplinary/Crosscutting/Impact/Applications
- Whitepaper
 - Summarize conclusions from townhall – resolutions, recommendations, etc.
 - Address aspects from the LRP charge (e.g., international context)
 - Please consider an Executive Summary of modest length
 - Refer to additional text for more information
 - Reference whitepapers or other documents that served as input
 - Audience is the LRP committee
 - If the text is appropriate for the LRP document, that is an added bonus
- Sidebar/Ancillary Materials
 - Personal stories; videos; simulations
